From the Headteacher

Welcome back! I hope you all had a lovely half term break!

We have had a very exciting first week back with a special visit from Nick Butterworth. The children had a wonderful time meeting him and getting their books signed. As Busy Bees have been learning about Nick and his books, I would just like to remind you that Busy Bee children can come to school dressed as a character from his books for World Book Day on 3rd March. Ladybirds can come to school dressed as a fairytale character.

A few gentle reminders- Please ensure that you send water in to school for your children in their water bottles, and not juice or squash. If your child is in Ladybirds class, please also remember to fill in your 'Wow' moments for the Wow board.

If you have any spare boxes of tissues that you could donate to the school, they would be greatly appreciated, as our winter stockpile is vastly depleted.

I will soon be sending out a request for parents to help us with a working party in April- there are a number of little jobs around the school that need doing, and we would be grateful for any help we receive. Jobs range from technical (things like sanding or planing wood) to simple (painting walls, sweeping the playground etc), although one of the projects will be repainting the hall, so we do need as many helpers as possible. If you have any particular skills that you would be willing to share, that would be wonderful.

We will also soon begin preparing for the Mothers' Day Service which will be on Sunday, 6th March at 11:00am at St Nicholas Church. It would be lovely to see as many Mums and Grandmothers as possible.

Have a lovely weekend!
